ACI Energy Efficient Home Showcases The Energy Guardian® Kits
2008 Recipient of PA Environmental Excellence Award
Selected to Help Improve Energy Savings

The Energy Guardian*® Kits were chosen to be part of the ACI Green Demonstration Home Open House as part of a private sector response to national policy questions on energy use. These kits stop a commonly overlooked energy loss in most homes today.

Affordable Comfort, Inc. has produced a demonstration home at 406 Reetz Ave, Shaler Township, in conjunction with the 2008 ACI Home Performance Conference. The existing home chosen for the project is representative of tens of thousands of similar units built in the mid 1900's. This energy efficient home in Pittsburgh, PA is being retrofitted with state-of-the-art products and installation techniques to enhance energy savings, occupant comfort, health, and safety.

The Energy Guardian*® Kits can be a key part of your renovation project. Proper remediation of the attic entrance is an essential measure for homes in hot as well as cold weather climates," said Helen Perrine, Executive Director of ACI.

The Energy Guardian*® Kits made by ESS Energy Products, Inc. of Paoli, PA uniquely insulate and seal any type of attic entrance. These kits are a 2008 Recipient of the PA Governors Award for Environmental Excellence and are recognized by well known experts as a "national standard."

"Until recently, the amount of energy loss through the attic entrance was underestimated by some weatherization professionals and overlooked by most homeowners. This project will shine light on this very cost effective energy saving opportunity," says Jim Melesky, President of ESS Energy Products Inc.

A ribbon cutting ceremony is scheduled for Saturday at 2:00 p.m. Product vendors and industry experts will be available to discuss the demonstrated solutions. The public is invited to attend.
